Freedom is often synonymous with creative expression, but what if the very environment that limits you ultimately gives you the greatest source of inspiration? Two artists and a teacher share their powerful experience of creating art in confinement within the Irish system.

Guests include Gary Cunningham, former prisoner and musician and playwright; Bernie Masterson (Visual Artist and Prison Art & Multi-Media Teacher'), Mountjoy Prison; and Vukashin Nedeljkovic, visual artist and researcher.

Moderated by Laurence Mackin (Arts Editor of The Irish Times).
